"All the world's a stage, And all the men and women merely players. They have their exits and their entrances; And one man in his time plays many parts."
from As You Like It

"The lady doth protest too much, methinks"
from Hamlet

"Be not afraid of greatness. Some are born great, some achieve greatness, and some have greatness thrust upon 'em."
from Twelfth Night

"If you prick us do we not bleed? If you tickle us do we not laugh? If you poison us do we not die? And if you wrong us, shall we not revenge?"
from The Merchant of Venice

"If music be the food of love, play on."
from Twelfth Night

"O, it is excellent to have a giant's strength, But it is tyrannous to use it like a giant."
from Measure for Measure

"This above all: to thine own self be true".
from Hamlet

"To sleep, perchance to dream-ay, there's the rub."
from Hamlet

"We are such stuff as dreams are made on; and our little life is rounded with a sleep."
from The Tempest

"Cowards die many times before their deaths, The valiant never taste of death but once."
from Julius Caesar

"The setting sun, and music at the close, As the last taste of sweets, is sweetest last, Writ in remembrance more than things long past."
from King Richard II
